To focus upon outcome education a proper evaluation pattern is required not only for students but for teachers also therefore achievements and needed improvements in teaching learning process and pedagogy both can be assessed. 1-Proper plan of evaluation annual or biannual be determined prior to conduct the evaluation. 2. Every teacher must be familiar not only with both the roles and responsibilities associated with teacher evaluation, but also with the tools, templates, frameworks, scoring systems. To aware teachers about it , workshops are to be organize at institution or local level and state level under the mentorship of educational heads. FDPs should be designed and implemented specifically for this purpose. 3- A team of evaluators be formed including the local head , state coordinator and experts from other related areas. Evaluators also be given training of objective evaluation of various aspects of teaching learning process, Evaluators need to know not only what constitutes effective feedback, but also how to best deliver feedback - both positive and negative - to teachers. 4-feedback through questionnaire ,rating scale and other tools from parents and students be ensured 5-there must be follow up procedure to check the compliance or progress. 6.Incentives and rewards and recognition are to be given to outperforming and most improved teachers .
